

EXPLORE SUMMER CAMP SPOTLIGHT

Meet Bruce Slusher

Bruce is a first-year instructor for Builders Camp and the Carpentry pre-apprenticeship program here at the Fairfield County's Workforce Center. Slusher says that students will learn basic carpentry skills at builder's camp, such as learning how to use a tape measure, measuring and cutting wood, and modifying block cars. He hopes that students will "take enough out of this camp to hopefully spark an interest and give them perspective for what they want to do in the future." He is most looking forward to racing the cars students create and getting to see the results of these students' time and effort. When asked why someone should attend this camp, Slusher says, "it is a week full of fun in the summer where you can hang out with friends, make new friends, and learn something new!"

The next Builders Camp starts July 22nd and there is still space available. If you are interested in signing up for SESSION 2 of Builder's camp, Click the link below!
